

Participation:

Please note that our concerts and recitals are fully professional and by invitation. Therefore we are not able to respond to unsolicited publicity, including CDs, DVDs, Videos or email requests; any received will be filed for information.

From time to time we do promote events in the annual Bachfest that involve participation by voluntary amateur choirs, community groups or individuals in workshops and singing days that are professionally led or directed. Details of these will be published on our website and in our printed publicity booklets circulated to Libraries, Churches, Galleries & Museums, Restaurants, Universities and other outlets.